Energy-producing, waste disposal service proposed

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

VENICE — A step to alleviate the collection and disposal of solid waste on a districtwide basis was taken by the City Council at its Tuesday night meeting.

Participation in a Metro East solid waste disposal and energy-producing service was unanimously approved by the Venice aldermen. A district feasibility study is to be made.

FIVE COMMUNITIES are being asked to join the proposed service. Brooklyn, Alorton and Venice now have agreed to take part by approving resolutions.

Still considering the plan are East St. Louis and Centerville.

Sprawling costs of garbage collection and disposal are causing forecasts of funding cutbacks in other essential services for communities, said proponents of the new service.

STRICTER enforcement of landfill management, higher fees for landfill permits and higher charges to solid waste haulers are adding to overall increased costs, it was noted.

Present landfills are rapidly filling up and there is a general distaste by the public for creating new landfills near any community, further complicating the garbage disposal issue, it was said.

The Illinois General Assembly enacted legislation earlier this year, providing for such a disposal service board to be created.

STATE LEGISLATORS also approved a $100,000 appropriation for a feasibility study in the affected communities, according to Wallace B. Carson, director of the State of Illinois' East St. Louis Development Authority. Carson is coordinating the proposal.

Through Senate Bill 2117, Gov. James R. Thompson will be responsible for appointing members to the proposed service's governing board from among the nominees. Three names will be submitted by the mayor of each participating community.

One of the options open to the board is the construction of a large-scale incinerator which would generate energy and also recover reusable resources, such as glass and metal, Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols explained to the City Council.

"BASICALLY, this is a good thing. It can't do anything but reduce costs of dumping for us, while using the rubbish to generate electricity," Third Ward Alderman John Erwin said.

Although no proposals have yet been made about where such an incinerator would be located, several places might be available.

"Here (in Venice), we've got the highways, barges, plus rail facilities," Erwin said.

FEES at the landfill along Illinois 203, south of Madison, where garbage is dumped from the City of Venice, will be raised from $2.35 per cubic yard to $3.15 on Jan. 1, Erwin informed the council.

The city spends close to $3,000 each month for dumping charges alone.

Formation of a service district is necessary, legislators said, because planning a waste disposal program would be too costly for a single municipality to attempt alone.

ENGINEERS and other professionals with a "full range of expertise" will be utilized to make the feasibility study, Carson said.

The enabling law calls for a minimum of two communities to be involved in the formation of such a district.

Carson said such a project would not be financed from general tax money, but would be funded strictly through revenue bonds, which would depend on the strength and feasibility of the project, he said.

"I want to emphasize that it will be financed strictly through the sale of revenue bonds and will not fall on the local taxpayers," he said Friday.

Whitmer running for City Council

GRANITE CITY — A petition has been obtained by 2nd Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer for the April 1987 city election, though he announced in August he was not running.

Whitmer, a 32-year-old council veteran, got the petition Dec. 22. He declined comment on why he changed his mind.

Petitions have been obtained by 33 residents considering running in the spring election.

Four-year offices to be filled in April are those of one alderman in each of the seven wards and the superintendent of streets, said City (See CITY, Page 7A)

GC man suffers gunshot wound

A Granite City man was in fair condition early Saturday in the critical care unit at St. Elizabeth Medical Center after suffering an apparent gunshot wound, to the stomach about 1 a.m.

Police found Larry Rutter, 4011 Kirkpatrick Homes, lying on the sidewalk outside Goldie's Tavern at 75th and State streets.

An ambulance was summoned and Rutter, believed to be about 25 years old, was taken to the medical center. A suspect was in custody Saturday. A felony information is expected to be sought from the Madison County state's attorney Monday.

Further details were not immediately available.

School 'master plan' proposed

GRANITE CITY — A physical "master plan" will be developed for Granite City High School and Coolidge Junior High School.

The District 9 Board of Education adopted a proposal by local architect Henry Gabriel to develop the plan at a cost not to exceed $1,000. Upon completion, Gabriel's proposal would locate future building and parking space on district property at the high school and Coolidge.

THE MASTER PLAN idea was conceived by the board as a result of proposals to build a new automotive shop at the high school.

"Instead of us trying to guess, we need a master plan. It's hard to move on the auto shop until we know what we are doing," said Ron Landman, the district's director of buildings and grounds.

The board was presented building proposals for the automotive shop at its Nov. 25 meeting by two architectural firms, Henry Gabriel of GRANITE CITY — Granite City architect Henry Gabriel was the subject of a closed meeting of the District 9 Board of Education on Dec. 16.

Gabriel's performance under a past contract to the board was discussed, with some members reportedly voicing complaints about promises that were allegedly made by Gabriel, said a source familiar with the discussions. Few details about the nature of the complaints were provided.

Granite City and Booker Associates Inc. of St. Louis. Neither has been chosen for the architectural work. LANDMAN said a master plan would include locating other buildings, such as a building site for a Sports Hall of Fame at the high school. The hall of fame proposal is backed by a local civic group.

Under terms of the master plan proposal, Gabriel will meet with Landman and Superintendent of Schools G.W. Wainwright to establish what future buildings and parking space should be included in the plan.

"There are all kinds of plans in the works. We want to see what we've got over there," Landman said.

THE SELECTION of an architect for the automotive shop will not be made until the plan is completed, Landman said. He said the selection may be made in February.

Both architectural firms submitted fee proposals for two different auto shop construction projects.

One proposal called for an estimated $100,000 addition to the present high school automotive shop. Booker quoted architectural fees at 5 1/2 percent of the total construction contract. Gabriel quoted a 6 percent fee.

AS THEIR FEES based on a new $350,000 automotive building, Booker quoted 5 percent of the construction contract and Gabriel quoted a 6 percent fee.

Landman said the fee schedules were not bids. He said the district does not go through bidding procedures for "professional services," such as the hiring of an architect.

Special service area created in Pontoon

By Susanne Indelicato

PONTOON BEACH — An ordinance establishing Chouteau Trace Special Service Area No. 1 was approved by the Village Board on Tuesday.

The ordinance provides for the construction and installation of public improvements, including sewers, water lines and streets, in the 68 acres at the southwest corner of Illinois 111 and Engineer Road.

The improvements will cost an estimated $2.5 million and will be funded through the sale of bonds, which will be retired through a property tax levy on property within the district.

Stan Lucas, president of BTL Enterprises, requested the service area. BTL Enterprises has an option to buy the property.

A public hearing on the proposal was conducted Oct. 14. No objections to the proposal were filed.

In a related matter, the trustees conducted a public hearing on a proposal to create Chouteau Trace Special Service Area No. 2 at the northeast corner of Illinois 111 and Chain of Rocks Road. BTL Enterprises has an option to buy 32 acres at that location. Improvements there are expected to cost $2.5 million.

"My client feels this is a good area for development," said John Gibbons, Lucas' attorney.

Lucas is planning "no specific projects" for the area, Gibbons said.

In other business, the trustees authorized the clerk to contract for building insurance from American States Insurance Co. in St. Louis.

The insurance would provide $90,000 in coverage for the Village Hall and senior citizens building and $20,000 for their contents at an annual cost of $1,681.

The building insurance policy expires Dec. 31. That policy cost $1,900 and was to increase to $3,200 when renewed.

A business license for Hillside Country Crafts at 4068 Oakmont was approved. The arts and crafts business is owned by James and Diane Hill.

Another business license for Lakeview Restaurant at 4112 Pontoon Road was approved. Tracy Holland and Tammy Williamson applied for the license.

Trustee Lou Whitsell thanked the board and the community for their support of Give-A-Can Day. The drive furnished 83 families with food, he said.

Granite City and other area communities will not meet the Dec. 31, 1961, deadline set by the state to stop polluting the Mississippi River. Because of the unmet deadline, the city will now be expected to not increase pollution levels, which may result in a halt to subdivision expansion and annexation of new subdivisions.

Holiday deadlines announced
For the New Year's Day holidays, deadlines will change for the Jan. 1 issues of the Sunday Press-Record/Journal. Deadlines for classified display and R.O.P. ads will be noon on the preceding Wednesday, with no deadline change for classified liners. During the period, the Sunday paper will be delivered as normal, the Wednesday paper on Wednesday evening and the Thursday paper on Friday at the regular time of day.

Christmas is a feeling, not a day

Christmas 1986 is history. The green Christmas trees with their brightly colored decorations will soon be coming down. The holiday music will cease to play for another year. And the garbage man will soon be collecting trash bags full of discarded wrapping paper that, only a week ago, concealed long-awaited presents.

The Christmas season comes and goes much too quickly. It only seems like yesterday when it was the day after Thanksgiving and the stores were packed with anxious holiday shoppers. It only seems like yesterday when people were setting up Christmas trees, hanging ornaments and tinsel and stringing brightly colored holiday lights.

It only seems like yesterday when little children were standing in line to get a look at the man with the white beard and red suit. It only seems like yesterday when housewives were in grocery stores choosing a turkey, or buying all the ingredients for their stuffing, made using that old family recipe. But, it wasn't yesterday. Yesterday was just another day. The magic somehow was gone.

On Christmas day, I was watching a television show where one of the characters said, "Christmas isn't a day, it's a feeling." Somehow, that feeling gets packed away with the decorations and lights. I'm sure somewhere there was a little boy or girl Friday morning thinking, "It's all over. Christmas was gone and, unfortunately, so was the feeling. For some, Christmas isn't a time for celebrating. For some reason, the feeling isn't there. For them, it's just another day. Christmas cannot be looked at as just another day, because it isn't a day but a feeling. No matter how long you've been working, shopping or cooking, when you sit down at the table and share Christmas dinner with family and friends, that feeling somehow takes over. The feeling's there. Making it last is the problem. We have many holidays throughout the year — Easter, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Thanksgiving, and yet somehow aren't the same as Christmas. They have their own "feelings," but nothing like the Christmas feeling. We can't have Christmas every day, but we can somehow try to maintain that special feeling: The feeling of celebration, of being with loved ones, and of peace and good will. Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus — 365 days a year.

Winter storms challenge

To the editor:

In an average winter, five severe storms hit Illinois, according to the Illinois State Water Survey. A severe winter storm produces six or more inches of snow in 48 hours or damaging ice or glaze over at least 5,000 square miles.

If you are driving a long distance during the holidays or after, be prepared to turn back or seek refuge if a storm develops. However, if you become stranded in a blizzard, observe the following life-saving activities:

1. Turn on your emergency flashers, raise the hood and attach a cloth to the antenna or window.
2. Do not panic or try to walk to safety. Stay in your car where you will have some shelter and are more likely to be found. Turn on the dome light at night to make your car more visible.

3. Beware of carbon monoxide poisoning. Keep a downwind window slightly open for fresh air and run the engine and heater sparingly. Make sure that snow has not blocked the exhaust pipe.
4. Try not to fall asleep. If more than one person is in the car, take turns keeping watch. Exercise by, clapping hands and moving arms and legs. But do not overdo it. Exercise warms you but too much exercise can result in body heat loss.
5. Avoid overexertion and exposure. Attempting to push your car out of a drift or to shovel heavy snow during a severe winter storm can cause a heart attack, even for persons in apparently good physical condition.

JIM EDGAR

Administrator is a student

To the editor:

The best ally of Belleville Area College Chancellor Bruce Wissore and the majority of the board is "time." They know time is on their side.

Whenever the newspaper reports one of their contemptible actions or activities, the vast majority of the community becomes outraged. However, a few weeks the fury dies down, and the chancellor and the board proceed with whatever they were doing.

Though the newspaper cannot continually remind us of past disclosures, we must remember that the views of the administration have not changed, and the many unacceptable activities continue.

For example, Chancellor Wissore receives approximately $90,000 a year in benefits for being chancellor, and yet he is a full-time law student at St. Louis University.

He will probably continue his law studies next semester in spite of the fact that the overwhelming majority of the people considers his legalized exploitation.

So let's not forget the past revelations of unacceptable activities even though new disclosures will be reported, and let's work to remove the causes of the problems.

It is not fair to area residents, students and school personnel to allow the many adverse conditions and policies to continue.

TED FARMER
Belleville

Wall Street 'Watergate'

Bill Allen of the Boeing Airplane Company once told me, "I can always tell when our company is about to get a new government contract; the price of our stock is pressured upward by an influx of buyers."

What he meant was that somebody inside the Truman Administration — perhaps inside the Pentagon — was leaking to friends information in advance about a new Boeing contract.

Since then the laws against "insider trading" have been reinforced. Friends on the inside are not supposed to trade securities in their own company stock and they are not supposed to tip off their friends when a contract or a buy-out or other news is likely to influence stock prices.

But laws piled on laws did not prevent the practice. Ivan Boesky, Wall Street dealmaker, speculated in the stock of companies targeted for takeover. He made a killing. He made enough so that when he got caught he could afford to pay a $100 million penalty. Probably he'd have gone to jail except that he made a deal with federal investigators. In exchange for leniency, he would allow himself to be "wired." He carried a concealed microphone on his person for several weeks — while he talked to investment bankers, takeover stock speculators, lawyers in the financial world — and now the scandal has mushroomed into a "Wall Street Watergate."

Early in the new year Congress will open hearings on insider trading.

The Business Roundtable, a group of leading industrialists, is urging new laws to stabilize this whole business of arbitrage where outsiders seem to take over a corporation by accumulating enough stock for control.

It's this practice which has bred much of the peripheral hanky-panky.

Such is the scope of this scandal that it has been unsettling to stock exchanges as far away as London and Tokyo.

Boesky has already admitted offering a "commission" to Dennis Levine, then a specialist in mergers for Drexel Burnham Lambert, in exchange for "confidential information."

But concerned congressional committees also want to hear from Mike Milken of Drexel who invented the "junk bond" market.

Carl Icahn of TWA.

Victor Posner, another corporate raider.

And these are just the beginning. The SEC not only "wired" Boesky, but also recorded his telephone conversations and, in some instances, videotaped meetings in his office for the months.

Cleaning out the Christmas sock

The Christmas season is especially difficult at the newspaper. Kind of like juggling Tiffany lamps and bowling balls, the newsroom has to make extra tough deadlines and deliver top quality.

The normal stress on the newsroom is actually compounded, rather than lessened, by the time off for Christmas and New Year's Day. Though the staff gets holiday time, the news doesn't. We have supplemental services, such as St. Louis News Service and Copley News Service to help, but we mostly go it alone, especially on the front page. And news pages and sports pages.

Because we know you can get out of town news elsewhere, it's up to us to make sure your appetite for local news is satisfied even if it means an extra work.

Another unfortunate byproducts of the holidays is strict priorities must be placed on what we do. Some things have to be set on the proverbial back burner, next to the cranberry sauce. Fortunately, I haven't gotten too far behind, but here are a few things about the newspaper that need to be pulled from the "Christmas sock."

Patrick Foley, photographer extraordinary, proved himself once again in the quarterly competition held by the Press Association of Greater St. Louis. He entered photos in two categories, feature photography and news photography, and took first-place honors in both. The awards weren't more gifts from Santa's sack — Patrick's photos were exceptional. His news photo was of a plane sliding nose-down and kicking up dust after its landing went awry on the field at Granite City Campus. The feature photo was of a youngster on a bicycle caught in mid-air while performing a stunt during a downtown celebration.

As a tradition, the Press-Record/Journal prints a year-end news review. This year is no exception. Valerie Evenden is busy preparing a brief recap of some of the major issues and activities that caught your attention in 1986. It should be ready in time for the Press-Record.

Our new computers are installed, ready to go and they're — sitting. When the holidays arrived, it was decided that it would be too difficult to conduct training sessions during what is usually the busiest times of the year in the newsroom. To have tried to train the staff while simultaneously producing a newspaper would have been risking chaos. Thankfully, good sense prevailed.

Who said there isn't a Santa Claus?

Pay increase for officers working Venice home games

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

VENICE — Pay for off-duty police officers working the security detail at high school basketball games will be increased by $5 to $38 per game, the Board of Education decided at its Dec. 16 meeting.

A problem in getting off-duty officers to work at some basketball contests, especially sold-out games, was brought to the board's attention by Superintendent of Schools Robert Vickers.

"WE MIGHT have some difficulty getting them to work the sold-out games, such as those with East St. Louis-Lincoln, Lovejoy and Madison," the administrator said. The current fee of $33 had not been changed for eight or 10 years, Vickers said.

In some instances that fee is enough, he added. "MADISON USES auxiliary police at their basketball games and pays them a flat rate of $40."

"That's a $7 difference in what we are paying and we may have to increase it some, although we are not in the same financial category as Madison," Vickers said.

"In talking it over with Police Chief (Farris) Smith, we came up with some park police officers who are willing to work," he explained. THE PROFESSIONAL attitude displayed during basketball contests by Daniel McKinney of the Venice Police Department and Oliver Mason of the park police staff was singled out for praise by Vickers, who said, "Both men are very good at the games."

Board member George Wade, serving as president pro tem at the meeting, asked if the school district can select which officers are used at games.

"It depends on who is off duty that night. I usually call Chief Smith to see who is available. We've had very good cooperation with the police department," Vickers said.

He mentioned that when a backboard was broken by a particularly hard dunking move during the Dec. 2 contest with East St.

Louis-Lincoln, Venice Police Sgt. Birl Reed drove him to Madison to pick up a replacement backboard so the game could continue.

"BIRL OFFERED to do it," the administrator said.

Board members voted unanimously to invite Wade James, Madison retired assistant superintendent of schools, to attend all athletic events in Venice without charge.

"Mr. James just moved into the Venice School District, in fact, he now lives just a few doors from the school. He is the 'elder statesman' of education in the area and he is currently serving on our superintendent search committee," Vickers said.

IN OTHER ACTION, the board approved:

•A proposal by Barnett's Pest Control for services at the Venice Grade School building at a cost of $470.

•Hiring Gary Miller, an SIUE student, to work on a part-time basis at a rate of $4 an hour, to lead software in the school office computer.

•A half-day in-service training program in Reading Improvement for grade school teachers on Feb. 13.

•Permitting Cub Scouts to use school facilities on a date to be agreed upon with the school administration.

Scouting officials had sought use of the school for a pinewood derby to be held Jan. 19. The date coincides with Dr. Martin Luther King's birthday, when school will not be in session.

Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Southwestern Illinois is giving Quad-Citians an opportunity to make a difference in the life of a child.

School district ID number on state tax form

Taxpayers will find something new on their 1986 Illinois income tax return form. Included on the form will be a line requesting taxpayers to identify their school district by a corresponding 4-digit code.

The information gained by including this new line will be used to determine school district wealth by personal income and may aid in developing a new state funding formula to support public elementary and secondary schools.

Regional School Superintendent Harold "Gene" Briggs said the code numbers of each school district will be included in the Illinois income tax return packet and taxpayers are encouraged to determine their school district's name and number.

The code numbers include: Granite City 0820, Madison 0823 and Venice, 0826.

The 4-digit code numbers are not the same as the school district number. Taxpayers are asked to read the instructions carefully when entering the code on their tax return, Briggs said.

The Illinois State Board of Education has established a toll-free number to help those people having trouble determining their school district's code number. Taxpayers may call the State Board at 1-800-343-6174 for assistance.

Local school districts will also be able to help many taxpayers determine the applicable code numbers, as well as the regional office, Briggs said.

Listed below are all the Madison County school districts' 4-digit numbers to be used on 1986 income tax returns:

New bills, old subjects in assembly

SPRINGFIELD — Some old subjects like smoking restrictions and repealing the seatbelt law — and some new subjects like banning riverboat gambling on the shores of Illinois — were proposed for new state laws Thursday.

The 93rd session of the Illinois General Assembly does not convene until Jan. 14 but incumbent House members who were re-elected in November vied to be first to pre-file proposed bills.

Several of the bills involved familiar crusades that have failed once or several times in the past. Rep. Robert Terzich, D-Chicago, a firefighter and ex-smoker, is again trying to restrict smoking in public places, after having similar bills snuffed out the last four years.

Rep. James Rea, D-Chicago, is again trying to repeal the mandatory seatbelt use law. On the other hand, one of the chief sponsors of the seatbelt law, Rep. John Cullerton, D-Chicago, is still putting safety first and has prefiled a bill to regulate motorcyclists to wear helmets.

Other old business which will be revived involves new bills to mandate smoke detectors in most dwelling units, election of the Illinois Commerce Commission, and re-imposing restrictions on bank credit card interest.

There are also some new concepts in the pre-filed bills. Rep. Robert DeJaeger, D-Rock Island, are each taking a crack at vice, namely booze and gambling, respectively.

Terzich wants to bar retail sales of liquor statewide between 2 a.m. and 7 a.m. on weekdays and between 3 a.m. and noon on Sundays.

Gabriel was contracted with last spring to provide architectural services for the district's work under state-mandated Life Safety Act improvements. He has also submitted an architectural fee proposal for the district's proposed automotive shop addition.

The architectural firm of Booker and Associates, of St. Louis, also submitted a fee proposal.

NO ACTION has been taken on the selection of an architect for the automotive shop.

It is not known whether the Life Safety Act work or the fee proposals were related to the closed discussions.

When asked if Gabriel's performance was discussed in the closed meeting, Board President Kelly Hogan would not comment.

"I have no comment on that. That's executive privilege," Hogan said.

THE BOARD VOTED to discuss architectural services under the personnel exemption of the Illinois Open Meetings Act.

The closed portion of the meeting lasted two hours, with the open portion lasting about one hour.

Gabriel designed many of the schools in District 9 and also has prepared Life Safety specifications for a number of years.

Vaughn and three passengers in her car were transported to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment of injuries.

Renal dialysis to begin

St. Elizabeth Medical Center will add another regional service to its growing offering of tertiary care services when a renal dialysis unit opens on 2-Binney after the first of the year.

With the opening of this unit, SEMC will become the only hospital-affiliated dialysis program in Metro East, according to Steve Hunter, vice president of marketing and planning.

Medical center space will be located to Health Care Renal Dialysis

Inc., a firm which provides the renal dialysis program at St. Louis University Hospital.

The new regional service will meet the needs of dialysis patients in the medical center's general service area of Madison, St. Clair, Monroe and Clinton counties, Hunter said. These patients currently receive treatment in St. Louis, he said.

Construction of the 12-bed unit began in late November and is expected to last six weeks.

DID YOU KNOW?

That the Granite City Council is about to bypass your constitutional rights?

The proposed Granite City Housing Occupancy Code

- ✓ Would allow city employees to enter YOUR HOME OR APARTMENT, without a warrant or justifiable reason, to inspect any part of it! (Sect. 3.14)
- ✓ Gives City employees the authority to order occupants or owners of ANY HOME to vacate the home immediately! (Sect. 3.18)
- ✓ Gives the City Inspector the power to order demolition of ANY HOME he feels would be too expensive to repair! (Sect. 3.21)
- ✓ Authorizes an appointed board to order repairs of a PRIVATE HOME at the owner's expense! (Sect. 3.25)
- ✓ Would force a property owner to post a $100 appeal fee just to challenge any decision about HIS HOME! (Sect. 3.26)
- ✓ Would force you to have YOUR HOME inspected by a city employee before you would be allowed to sell it! (Sect. 2.1)
- ✓ Would raise approximately $100,000 for the city coffers by charging property owners $30 for every change of occupancy! (Sects. 3.11, 3.12)

These are only a few of the rights that are being taken away!

The laws are already on the books to eliminate slum property if they only were enforced!

The City Council may vote Jan. 6 pearance and behavior to make the proper impression.

She said, "Let the way you walk, the way you sit, and the way you approach people convince them you have confidence in your abilities. Make sure that your hair style, make-up, and garments are compatible and suitable for the business office."

Mrs. Morgan brought several books showing a wide variety of hair styles, including evening and daytime styles. Also discussed were clothing and cosmetics. Samples of shampoo and hair conditioner were shared with the FSA members.

After the presentation, the members enjoyed Christmas cookies, furnished by Mrs. Helen Gieselman, the sponsor from Professional Secretaries International.

Women of the Moose review yule programs

Women of the Moose Chapter 247 observed social service chapter night and reviewed holiday projects at a meeting in December at the Moose Lodge.

Senior Regent Sylvia Woods welcomed 29 members and then introduced Walter Anders and Charlie Westbrook, who requested assistance from the women in preparing Christmas baskets.

Social Service Chairman Marlene Fredricks presented her committee to the group and gave two checks to be sent to Mooseheart — one for scholarship and maintenance programs and the other for a snowmobile, laundry baskets and air compressor.

Members donated money to Hospice of Madison County. A new member, Coleen Corbett, sponsored by Dorothy Coy, was approved as a candidate for membership.

It was announced a $25 gift was sent to the group's sunshine child at Mooseheart and another Christmas gift was sent to the student nurse sponsored by the chapter.

Protem officers introduced were Karen Anders, Sara Gusewelle, Dorothy Coy, Clara Johnson, Betty Chung, Jennie Bilyeu, Mary Rayhill and Birdie Meyenberg, and Leona Stize of the Edwardsville chapter.

Irene Goede, representing the Academy of Friendship group, gave a report on its Christmas party held at Jerry Roderick's Cafeteria.

A gift exchange was followed by games after the dinner hour.

Attending were, Dorothy Reyes, Mary Woods, Jean Teller, Sara Gusewelle, Clara Johnson, Carolyn Hester, Anna Kuzma, Karen Anders, Margaret Hester, Birdie Meyenberg, Gladys Markovich, Edna Miller, Jennie Bilyeu, Pat Macke, Dorothy Coy, Sylvia Woods, Marilou Wilkerson and Marian Lipscomb.

A holiday dinner meeting was held for the Past Regents Club at the Moose Lodge, hosted by Carolyn Hester, Sara Gusewelle, Sylvia Woods and Pat Macke.

Others who attended this social event were, Mildred Votoupal, Margaret Frombarger, Iris Chastain, Mary Murgic, Jennie Bilyeu, Gladys Markovich, Clara Johnson, Dorothy Coy, Jena Teller, Edna

Miller and Marian Lipscomb. Pat Macke was elected to serve as president of the group for the next year. Senior Regent Woods presented Maxine Thebeau with a gift for her help during the year and approval was given to send a check to the Salvation Army Tree of Lights. The members also contributed money for food baskets prepared by the men's group.

After the meeting, refreshments were served at tables decorated in the holiday motif. A gift exchange was held, followed by games, with prizes awarded to Debbie Frazier, Irene Goede, Elizabeth Ashby and Dorothy Coy.

Upsilon Xi aids needy families

Members of Upsilon Xi Chapter met in December in the home of Marie Scott and agreed to send money to needy cases in the Quad-City Area in lieu of a gift exchange. They also agreed to contribute funds to the Phoenix Crisis Center.

The hostess led a discussion on the chapter sweetheart and it was agreed all would be recognized as sweethearts and receive a charm and yellow rose at a brunch set for Feb. 7.

Mrs. Cann and Stephanie Southwick noted they are making plans for the annual Mother's Day outing on May 17.

Members drew names for a "rose buddy" for 1987 and Stephanie Southwick invited the group to her home for the Jan. 29 meeting.

Others present were Carol Moorlien, Jeanne Brandon, Nancy Ulakey and Kathy McAlenean.

Strong performance by Illinois savings firms

The strong nationwide performance of the savings institutions business this year is being reflected in the lending and savings results of institutions in Illinois. Federal Home Loan Bank Board reports show.

Our savings institutions made $98.5 million in mortgage loans in October, and $9.7 billion in the first 10 months of the year," said J. Dennis Montgomery, president of the Illinois League of Savings Institutions. They made $740 million mortgage loans in October 1985.

The League anticipates that Illinois thrifts will end a record $11 billion in mortgages this year.

The U.S. League of Savings Institutions expects the business to make a record $250 billion in mortgage loans this year, a sharp rise from the record leading of $196.7 billion a year ago. It would be the fourth consecutive year that the business made a record volume of mortgage loans.

The Bank Board's survey of this state's thrift institutions shows they had $44.5 billion in total mortgage loans and contracts outstanding in October, up from $42 billion in October 1985, Montgomery said.

"Our institutions had $54.6 billion in deposits and $64.5 billion in assets in October, compared with $52.3 billion and $60 billion, respectively, a year earlier," he said.

The Illinois League of Savings Institutions is the trade association which serves the state's 288 savings and loan associations and savings banks.

First-of-year sales are worth a second glance

By Janet Burnett

Home economics adviser

Now that the holidays are over, you're probably not looking for more ways to spend money.

But January is a good time to find good prices on just about anything. Pre-inventory sales, post-holiday sales and the old standby, January white sales — can mean big savings for the alert consumer.

Major appliances, housewares and linens of all kinds are among the best buys during the first weeks of the new year. Toys, electronics and holiday decorations may be offered at substantial reductions as well.

January is also a good time to buy winter clothing, including coats. Fashions do change from year to year, but "classic" styles are always in vogue — and late-season clearance sales can be a good way to build your winter wardrobe without spending a lot of money.

While January savings can really mount up, consumers still need to shop carefully. Just because a store sends out a slick advertising flyer that doesn't necessarily mean its prices are better than the competition's. Keep in mind that some items may be put on sale because they're damaged in some way.

Some merchants won't accept returns on sale items, so be sure to check the store's policy if you're not sure the item is exactly what you want. And, as always, compare prices and check the merchandise carefully before you buy.

Seals of approval can be found on many products, but often consumers are unaware of the meaning of the seal.

What does the Good Housekeeping seal mean to you? How about the UL seal on electrical goods? If you're like many consumers, you think of such emblems as "seals of approval" that set better-quality goods apart from the rest. But that's not necessarily the case.

Let's start with the Underwriters Laboratory Seal — the letters "UL" in a circle. The UL seal means that the manufacturer has paid Underwriters' Labs to check the electrical safety of the product. The seal means the product is not likely to be hazardous if it's used properly.

Products that don't have the UL emblem aren't necessarily of inferior quality — but the UL seal does mean that the product was submitted for testing and found to be safe. The Good Housekeeping seal is another common symbol on consumer goods. Although most people think of it as a "seal of approval," this seal indicates only that the product carries a warranty.

The seal states, "A limited warranty to consumers — Good Housekeeping promises replacement or refund if defective." Good Housekeeping magazine allows manufacturers to use the seal if they have bought a certain amount of advertising in the magazine. The magazine does, however, check most products that receive the seal. You may also see the Parents Magazine seal on some product packages. It states, "Limited warranty. Refund or replacement guaranteed by Parents Magazine if product or performance is defective and reported within 30 days of purchase."

The Parents Magazine seal is given only to products that are advertised in the magazine and that the editors believe are desirable for children.

Neither of these two magazines guarantees that a product with the seal is of better quality than one without it. The magazines promise only to give a refund or replace the product if the store or manufacturer will not.

Warriors' 17-14 win over Flyers top story of year

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

What a year it was. There were enough great memories for Tri-Cities sports fans in 1986 to last a lifetime. So picking out the top ten stories was not an easy task. In many cases, instead of focusing on a single event, we instead looked at the big picture, as many teams and individuals enjoyed banner years.

In Granite City, the Warriors won or shared the conference title in five sports. In Madison, the disappointment of the basketball and football seasons was at least partially covered up by the state titles won by the Trojanette track team. And in Venice, a high-flying basketball team came within a heartbeat of moving to the state finals.

But picking the top story of the year was easy. Just think back to an overcast Saturday afternoon in early October at Granite City's Memorial Stadium.

1. Warriors 17, Flyers 14
It couldn't happen here, could it? Sure, Granite City was 4-0 coming into the Oct. 4 game and playing for the conference lead. But East St. Louis had won 44 consecutive games and was the finest high school team in the country, much less the state. The Flyers beat Ron Yates' team by a combined score of 113-0 the past two years.

Then Jimmy Parker kicked a first quarter field goal. Then Tim and Jamie Hogan connected on a beautiful TD pass in the second quarter for a 10-0 lead. The Flyers got one back before halftime, but Len Whiteside's 15-yard TD run on a draw play early in the fourth quarter gave the Warriors a 17-7 lead before a delirious home crowd. Again the Flyers answered, but two late drives by East Side were stopped, and so was the winning streak.

The fans poured on the field as Yates shook hands with everyone in sight. And there was nothing lucky about it. Granite City had outplayed — and beaten — one of the best high school football teams in recent memory.

2. Venice falls short of state
The Red Devils followed up on a 20-5 regular season by sweeping through the DuPont Regional and the Vandavia Sectional without a great deal of trouble. But waiting for them in Charleston March 4 were the Teutopolis Wooden Shoes, unbeaten and the No. 1 Class A school in the state.

The Shoes had beaten everybody easily during the year, but this one wouldn't be easy. Clinton Harris' team stayed right with Teutopolis in the first half. Then Jesse Hall turned on the jets in the second half, and when Ed Ware scored with 3:04 left, Venice led 68-60. But a series of turnovers and missed free throws let the Shoes back in, and they took a two-point lead into the final seconds. Hall, with 35 points, missed a desperation heave at the buzzer, and Teutopolis went to Champaign and easily won the title.

This was the Class A state championship game.

3. Run & Gun Warriors
How good were the basketball Warriors? Nobody was quite sure at the beginning of the year. But Tim and Jamie Hogan came out firing. Tom Taylor and Chris Veizer scored inside, and Joe Gray ran the show.

In a show-biz atmosphere in Granite City Jan. 24, the Warriors topped Alton 88-80 for a share of the conference lead, as Gray collected 25 points. The joyride continued through the regionals, where the Warriors beat archrival Collinsville for the fourth time in one year in a thrilling title game. But Granite City ran into a buzzsaw in the East St. Louis Lincoln Tigers, who defeated them 71-56 in the sectional title game. Still, the Warriors were 25-4 and had one of the top scoring teams in the area. They should be back for more.

4. Gridgers take SWC title
It had seemed like forever since 1946. Harry Truman was president and World War II had just ended the last time Granite City won the conference title in football. But the win over East St. Louis put them in the driver's seat, and it all came to pass on Halloween night. The Warriors completed only one pass in the second half, but it was a Hogan-to-Hogan TD and Granite City clipped Belleville East 14-10 to wrap it up.

Granite City's first playoff berth since 1981 followed, and the Warriors scored an exciting 28-22 win at Quincy Nov. 5. But the fun ended Nov. 9 at home when East St. Louis got its revenge, a 20-0 whitewashing.

5. Confusion at Cougar Field
The Warrior soccer team began the year like they might never give up a goal, let alone lose. But after finishing in a tie for the league title with Collinsville, it again came down to a game with the hated Kahoks in Edwardsville, with the winner going to state.

Tim Johnson scored early for Collinsville in the Nov. 4 game, but the Warriors kept coming. Finally, a swarm of yellow cards in the fourth quarter resulted in the wrongful ejection of Dave DeRousse with eight minutes to play, and Granite City couldn't do it, finishing at 17-5-4.

6. Deal gains redemption
The 1985 girls state finals in track hadn't been very kind to the Madison Trojanettes. A series of mishaps left them with no medals. But in 1986, Tammy Deal and the Trojanettes made up for it. Deal won the 400-meter run and anchored Madison's winning 800-meter relay team. In all, Luvenia Long's team brought home four medals.

7. An Optimistic summer
The Tri-City Post 113 senior legion team had a disappointing year, but it wasn't a totally lost summer. The Granite City Optimists' junior legion team displaying a ferocious offense and clutch pitching, won the Metro East Junior Legion League regular season title with a 22-3 record.

Paul Kacera's team, led by Tim Patterson and Charlie Collins, averaged eight runs per game, but the offense wasn't there at the end. After a 7-0 win over Alton in the first round of the playoffs, they were beaten 3-2 by East Alton in the league quarterfinals at Edwardsville. Granite City had Patterson at second base representing the tying run with no one out in the sixth inning, but failed to score him.

But with most of the players figuring to move up to the Triplets this year, it should be another exciting summer.

8. Trojans don't win regional
Some things just always happen. And one of those is that Madison always wins its regional in basketball. It had happened every year since 1976, and after an up-and-down year, the Trojans blitzed

(See 1986, page 6B)

GREG PATTON and Ron Yates were all smiles after the epic upset of East St. Louis.

JESSE HALL drew a crowd wherever he went.

DARIN HENDRICKSON delivered, as did the rest of the Optimists.

TAMMY DEAL was a state champion for the Trojanettes.

TIM HOGAN kept the basketball — and football and baseball — Warriors on the run.

East St. Louis Assumption in the first game.

But they ran into their old buddies from Venice in the next game, and Jesse Hall and Co. finished them off in devastating fashion, 69-47. Four key seniors graduated and Rodney Watson left as head coach, but ex-Venice coach Rich Essington has the Trojans on the move again as 1987 starts.

9. Lora wasn't the whole show The Granite City girls cross country team had been the Lora Wiser Show for the past three years. But with Wiser graduated, the Warriors persevered and took the Southwestern Conference title for the third straight year.

Sheila Noel, Marianne Finn and Co. even advanced through the regionals, only to be shut out at the Springfield Sectional.

But there is life after Lora.

10. Others to state Granite City kept up its tradition of sending wrestlers to the state tournament when Tom Sparks and Mike Fenoglio advanced out of the sectional tournament. Both were eliminated early, but it was another good year for the Warriors, with Walt Whitaker getting his 200th career win. He carried on Red Schmitt's tradition quite nicely.

In tennis, Bill Gaumer and Robbie Lombardi made it to the state tennis tournament in the spring and freshman Keri Weckman went to the tournament in the fall. Madison's Reggie Young advanced to the boys state track meet in four events in the spring, bringing home a second place finish in the triple jump.

Other track athletes to make trips to state included Lisa Davenport, Tammie Enlow, Sheila Marshall, LaGloria Marshall, Melissa Davenport and Vivian Turner (Madison girls); Lora Wiser and Terri Selph (Granite City girls); and Jesse Leonard, Oliver Walker, Duane Hicks, Terence Hicks, Otis Ware, Willie Green, DeLarren Young and Joseph Starnes (Madison boys).

Matmen look for tournament crown

GRANITE CITY — The more things change, the more they stay the same.

If this is Christmastime, the Granite City wrestling team must be shifting into high gear. "The Warriors are right on schedule. Granite City host its 26th Annual Holiday Tournament Monday and Tuesday. Two sessions (at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m.) will be held each night at Memorial Gymnasium. Championship matches are slated for Tuesday evening.

Year in and year out, the area's wrestling picture comes into clearer focus based on the results at Granite City.

"Most of the time, the guys that do well here end up repeating as regional and sectional champions," said Warrior coach Walt Whitaker. "It's a good measuring stick as to how you are doing."

Granite City's doing just fine, thank you. The Warriors will cruise into the tournament with a 9-2 record.

"I'm pleased with the way we have performed," Whitaker said. "Going into the season we had some question marks, but we have answered some of them."

"The verdict is still out on some of these kids, but I think they will come along."

Leading the way is Paul Brandt at 167 pounds. Brandt will enter the tournament with an 11-0 mark. "He's really done a super job," Whitaker said. "Going into this year we really expected good things after the way he finished last year. He hasn't disappointed us."

Sophomore Brent Davis (105) is 10-1. Other big winners for the Warriors include Bill Fitzgerald (8-2-1), Scott Moss (8-3), Rich Wilson (9-2), Tracy Morrison (6-1), Jon Morgan (7-4) and Dave Knog (9-2).

"Some, like Morgan and Knog, didn't have much varsity experience, so I wasn't too sure how they would react," Whitaker said. "They have done a good job."

The field includes the same 16 teams that participated last year. They are Roxana, Belleville East, Bloomington, Hazelwood Central, Cahokia, Riverview Gardens, Civic Memorial, McCluer, McCluer North, Triad, Wood River, Carbondale, Ritenour, Stephen Decatur and Lincoln.

"Balance will be the main factor," Whitaker said. "If you have a weak spot in your team, it will usually show up. You'll have to be a champion or a second place to make up for the points you didn't score."

Granite City demonstrated perfect balance last year. The Warriors won the team title despite not having an overall champion. Granite City did that on the strength of three seconds, two thirds and two fourth place finishes.

Right now, if the Warriors have a "weak spot," it is at 145 pounds. "We have wrestled several kids there and gotten all kinds of results," Whitaker said.

Chris Hoffman spent some time there, as did sophomore Dan Grayson and junior Jim Stout.

"We are still trying out people there," the coach added.

Perhaps two of the most improved wrestlers have been senior Mike Lynch (185) and junior Ross Karbarski (heavyweight). "Both of these guys have done a good job," Whitaker said. "They gave us some stability in those weights."

"Last year, 185 was a bad spot for us. We lost six points a lot of times, and in a close match those points are tough to make up."

"Both Ross and Mike have worked hard. They've hit the weights and even went to a camp during the summer."

Whitaker sees the holiday tourney as being one of the best ever.

"There are a lot of quality teams," he said. "It should be exciting for the fans."

NOTES: The Warriors swept to victory at the House Springs Quad Dec. 20, beating the host team, St. Charles and Farmington in head-to-head confrontations. Taking first place were Davis, Fitzgerald, Wilson, Brandt and Lynch. Second place finishers were Todd Hutchinson, Scott Moss, Morgan, Knog and Terry Stanley. Taking third were Grayson, Karbarski and Jerold Moss.
